Mysterious Death of Two of the Burrows—Who Were the Murderers? Bank Vault Empty—Burrow Estate a Complete Wreck.

ALBION, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The innermost recesses of the vault of the broken First National Bank have been penetrated, and the full result of President Warner's peculation is known.

Nothing that he could convert into cash has been left.

The now famous banking case bids fair to retain the character of a mystery for some time, perhaps forever. It is evident that the excitement over Warner's flight and the suspension of the bank is soon to be transferred into a new channel, and that Calkins is to be the Justice had no jurisdiction; second, because he has been detained more than thirty days; third, because the law under which he was confined is unconstitutional. The Court says the question is whether the defendant is subjected to the payment of the costs and to imprisonment until the fine and costs are paid. It is claimed the imprisonment is punishment. Imprisonment may always be imposed, but it is not always imposed as a punishment, but it does not follow that all imprisonment is imposed as a punishment, as when a person is held to answer for a crime he holds that the authority to tax costs follows from the result of the trial, not from the nature of the penalty nor punishment, neither is it the duty, but what is called in law costs. The Justice has jurisdiction. It follows, therefore, that the defendant can only be released after the payment of the costs, unless he shall pay the fine and costs. The imprisonment is not in contravention of the constitution, for it is not in a civil action. Defendant is remanded. Judge McHenry of the Second Circuit Court, in the decision of the Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court was given. This makes eight just district judges who have decided this question this way, and upon

UNION PROHIBITIONISTS.

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 28.—The Union Prohibition Convention was called to order by Samuel Dickson, president of the State Committee of the Union party. Frans Burrow was offered by Rev. M. M. Golden, of Portage, Dickson named D. P. Sagedorph, of Charlotte, as temporary Chairman, and Dr. Wm. H. C. Burrow, of Elkhorn, as temporary Secretary. Sagedorph simply thanked the Convention for the honor and proceeded to business. Several Congressional Districts sent delegations, one each for the several committees, and the Committee on Finance, and after the primary organization the Convention took a recess.

DAVID PRESTON, of Detroit, will be nominated for Governor by acclamation. For Lieutenant Governor Dr. Horace Van Bush, is DISGRACED CONDUCT OF AN IRISH PEER.

WOMAN is winning her way into the industries. In 1840 there were seven vocations open to her in New England. This year the number is three hundred and seventeen. Late women have begun to take the place of men in the gold-beating trade, and their work is said to be more intelligent and delicate. In Massachusetts women are driving men out of many industries. They are largely in the majority in the shops making awnings and tents, dress trimmings, carpetings, clothing, buttons, fancy and cloth goods, woollens, flax and linen, making hair goods, paper, silk, rubber, hose, mixed textiles, worsteds, straw goods, and sporting goods. In twenty trades women outnumber men, while in sixty the latter preponderate.

The following is from the Vaneenburg Courier's account of the Catlettsburg convention: "Dexter Kehoe was next brought to the platform, and the cheers which greeted him from every portion of the hall showed that he was loyally even in death, and that the admiration for him was not confined to any portion of the district. He complained of feeling a degree of disappointment; but he never looked better or spoke better. When he spoke of his hopes going out like ships for flower isles never to return, the cry from every portion of the hall, "Yours will return, Dexter," "Yours will come again" and "Yours will sail in two years from now," showed that the people are determined that this little hunt shall yet have his reward for the many successful and successful battles he has fought for his party."

JUMBO, BY JOVE!

Barnum, His Great Beast, Forty Elephants and a Thousand Features Postively Coming to Maysville.

We have the positive official information direct and are, therefore, able to announce, beyond a shadow of doubt, that the great Barnum and London Nine United Monster Shows, and the whole of them, even to the last guy stake, will certainly exhibit in Maysville, on Saturday, October 18th. This will, indeed, be pleasant and exciting news to thousands hereabouts, and what a day it will be for Maysville, her merchants, landlords, liverymen, butchers, bakers and dealers generally. The country for fifty miles around will pour in upon us in mass, and for the largest gathering ever known in the history of our city will be assembled a prodigious out-pouring of people consisting of itself a show. Speaking of the greatest show on earth, the Courier-Journal aptly says: "When it comes to popular demonstrations let Presidential aspirants hide their diminished heads before Barnum, for their booms are no more to be compared with than the collapse of a toy top when the roar of one of Krupp's steel monsters of destruction. The Barnum, Bailey & Hutchinson unity of nine shows is really grown to be something more than merely the largest entertainment of its kind in the world. It has achieved the character and dignity of an established public institution; everything concerning which seems to interest everybody."

To an exhibition which has already apparently passed the possible limits of propulsion and profit has been added a most wonderful and interesting feature in the only Ethnological Congress of strange savage tribes ever assembled; the $200,000 sacred white elephant, which has caused world-wide scientific controversy and comment, and such a host of various and ardent novelties that seven special railroad trains are now required to move it, and it is forced to employ two full sets of the biggest tents ever made. The two menageries, three circuses in three rings, museums of genuine prodigies, elevated Olympian stage, gigantic jumbo, and last but not least, the grand Roman Hippodrome, with its thrilling classic races and speed contests, go to perfect an exhibition the first of its kind in all the world, and is noted for morality and refinement as for magnitude."

COUNTY POINTS.

During the last week several loads of old state watermelons were brought here from Maysville and sold. Better keep them there until after the frost.

We have been in the saddle for several days this week and have passed over a country where the corn crop is very poor, the opinion that the corn crop will average about three-fourths of the usual crop. The tobacco crop is considered fair, although the rains and will make an average crop. In our own country we have had a heavy rain in Fleming County, and was highly entertained. A good dinner, horse led and the horses well taken care of. We also forgot our old friend, John Caldwell, who entertained us so kindly at his elegant mansion.

Mr. Thomas R. Arthur was up in Bourbon last week and reports crops fine.

Misses Bratton and Misses Fitzpatrick and Misses Collins on Saturday last.

Mr. W. T. Cole is the only butcher man at Maysville. He takes the old boy up with some good points.

Meses. Cole & Fannnelly are driving a lively team of young buggies. Have sold eleven this summer.

Corn and tobacco are growing wonderfully now. The flowers and vegetables are showing cool nights.

The base ball boys propose toning down the game on Saturday evenings on the church seat at Slaton.

A lovely party of "dear boys" and "dear girls" in pretty jewelry buggies took in the street Licks Sunday last.

Miss Mollie Fitzpatrick spent a pleasant afternoon at "Paytonia," and returned much improved, having greatly increased the pines and cedars.

Mrs. John Edwards and her quartet of young sweethearts, Mr. Tom White and his sprightly lady, Mrs. Amanda Owens and Miss Anna White are in town, and delighted the visitors of Captain Sam White.

Edgar W. Lovell of Nashville, had a fine Sunday last in his old church at Maysville. The ladies turned out largely, and the services were conducted with great interest.

At the Bed-Death of Mr. Edison.

New York Word.

The scene of his last moments are truly pathetic. Mr. Edison, standing close to the doctor, who checked off the last beats of the pulse as the heart flickered, waited heroically for the fatal moment, when the physician folded the hand of the dead man. "He died nobly," he said; "she is beyond all human aid." Mr. Edison silently drew from a cabinet and a powerful current of electricity responded to his will. For two hours he kept the body of his beloved wife, with all the care and tenderness that his science, like that of the doctors, was powerless. Taking his children by the hand he led them into his study. There they remained a long time and when he came out the blue eyes glistened and the lips were red and swollen.
